WILL MALHEUR COUNTY FAIL?

Mancy Brothers & Wells, the firm which is developing the great 46,000 acre tract in Jordan Valley offers to use a vast sum of the money received from the sale of land for the building of a road from Homedale to the tract. They seek co-operation. It is a question now whether or not the officials of Malheur county, with the development of that vast area in mind will provide the means for proper co-operation.

There is but one logical route to the valley, that is the water grade up Succor creek. The other routes are both longer in distance and over almost impossible hills, requiring the lifting of all the freight over a mountain range and then dropping it down into the valley.

The matter has been before the county court in the past, and favorable action was taken, but no work done. Now the work on the tract of land has reached a point where the projectors of the colonization of the lands require action. Will Malheur county turn them away and send them over to Idaho to get consideration and send all of resulting trade out of the state, in which these lands will pay tax, and for which the other communities of the state are taxed? Surely the Malheur county court will not blind itself to the possibilities which the development of the Jordan Valley has for all the Eastern end of the county, even if it does mean that some money must be spent to secure the expenditure of the funds guaranteed by Mancy Brothers & Wells?

A POPULAR CANDIDATE.

It is seldom, in a county of the Malheur's size with all its diversified interests, that the candidacy of a citizen for a political office finds approval in all sections. Yet that is what has transpired in the case of Attorney P. J. Gallagher, whose announcement the Argus carried last week. Several weeks ago the Argus suggested that it was possible that Mr. Gallagher might enter the race and it is indeed gratifying to note the approval which has come from all of the papers in the district, in Harney county as well as in Malheur.

Mr. Gallagher deserves the voluntary support which has been so freely offered him. He is the type of man that the district should send to the legislature. He has the ability, he possesses the kind of personality that makes good in a body of men. He makes friends, and this section of the state requires just that type of representative, one who can get results by making friends.

But personality is not his sole attribute. He knows the district well and has proven his loyalty by devoting time and energy, at the expense of personal convenience to advance the interests of this section. He has manifested his faith in it by investing all he possesses in property both in Malheur and in Harney counties.

Having lived for years in Juntura on the boundary of Harney county, having a half interest in a Harney county ranch and having spent a large portion of his time representing Harney county business men, he is thoroughly in sympathy with the aspiration of that vast and growing region.

But that is not all, he has, since coming to Ontario shown his public spiritedness by taking an active part in the advancement of the common interests here. He has served the Commercial club as its president and the Malheur County Fair association as a member of their board of directors, and in every public movement has given his time and talent to the success of the effort. In these affairs as in his private life, Mr. Gallagher has made good, and judging by that, the best of criterions, he will make good in representing the people of this district in the legislature should they, as it seems they are determined to, send him to Salem to represent them next winter.

The Best Is Cheapest

There is no use having varnish on floors, furniture or woodwork that turns white when bruised or subjected to hot or cold water and soap if something better can be had. We will be glad to demonstrate
